COLUMBIA

Closes Deal For Additional Natural Gas Supply From a West Virginia Field

HUNTINGTON, W. VA., October 10th—A deal, which it is stated will lead eventually to the purchase of the output of all the independent gas companies in the Guyandotte District, was closed today, whereby the Columbia Gas and Electric Company purchased the production of the Continental Oil and Gas Company of 15,000,000 feet daily.

This move by the Columbia Company to increase its gas supply was made necessary by the heavy demand for gas in Cincinnati.

Work will be started at once on laying a pipe line from the wells of the Continental Company to connect with the main line of the Columbia Company, and it will be arranged to turn the additional gas output into the Cincinnati main by November 15th.

"We will hold all this gas in reserve for Cincinnati," said President White Tuesday.

"Our holdings previous to this purchase, supplied about 400,000,000 cubic feet a day, and the present consumption of gas in Cincinnati is about 75,000,000 cubic feet, so it can readily be seen that we have four times as much gas in our holdings before this latest purchase as demanded in Cincinnati."

RINGGOLD LODGE, I. O. O. F.

Ringgold Lodge No. 27, I. O. O. F., will hold its regular meeting this evening at 7:00 at DeKalb Lodge Hall.

PILES BRING DESPAIR

TAKE COURAGE! INTERNAL TREATMENT WILL CURE

Piles make life unhappy and ruin the best disposition. Most sufferers have been bitterly disappointed by many failures to find a cure.
A medicine in tablet form, taken internally,
that avoids the unpleasant features of oin-ments, suppositories and operations, and cures thoroughly by removing the inside cause, is surely worth trying, especially as J. James & Son guarantee it.

Answer
This Question

When shown positive and reliable proof that a certain remedy had cured numerous cases of female ills, wouldn't any sensible woman conclude that the same remedy would also benefit her if suffering with the same trouble?

Here are two letters which prove the efficiency of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Fitchville, Ohio.—"My daughter was all run down, suffered from pains in her side, head and limbs, and could walk but a short distance at a time. She came very near having nervous prostration, had begun to cough a good deal, and seemed melancholy by spells. She tried two doctors but got little help. Since taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, Blood Purifier and Liver Pills she has improved so much that she feels and looks like another girl."—Mrs. C. Cole, Fitchville, Ohio.

Irassburg, Vermont.—"I feel it my duty to say a few words in praise of your medicine. When I began taking it I had been very sick with kidney and bladder troubles and nervous prostration. I am now taking the sixth bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and find myself greatly improved. My friends who call to see me have noticed a great change."—Mrs. A. H. Sanborn, Irassburg, Vermont.

We will pay a handsome reward to any person who will prove to us that these letters are not genuine and truthful —or that either of these women were paid in any way for their testimonials, or that the letters are published without their permission, or that the original letter from each did not come to us entirely unsolicited.

What more proof can any one ask?

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine.
Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health free of charge.

TO ALL TOBACCO GROWERS

The District Board of the Burley Tobacco Society in session at Lexington Friday passed the following resolution:

"That we recommend a mass meeting to be called at the county seat or some other central point in each county on next Saturday, October 15th, 1910, at 1 p. m., for the purpose of discussing the pooling of the 1910 crop of tobacco; and suggest that the majority of the people at this mass meeting select a committee of three or more, said committee may be bankers, lawyers, business men or tobacco growers, to hold all the pledges signed on and after October 9th, 1910, with the understanding that this committee shall bring said pledges to a meeting of all the counties to be held in Lexington on October 31st, at 10 a. m., with the understanding that the majority of the committee so selected from each county be empowered, after hearing the reports from all the counties present, either to deliver the pledges to the Burley Tobacco Society or take them home and destroy them."

"The decision of the majority of that part of the committee present from each county shall bind the poolers signing said pledge."

Pursuant to the above resolution a mass meeting of the tobacco growers of Mason county is called to meet at the Courthouse in Maysville on Saturday, October 15th, 1910, for the purpose of discussing the tobacco situation and the appointing of a Committee to take charge of the pledges signed after October 9th. All growers who have heretofore refrained from signing this pool are especially requested to be present.

JOHN WILSON TOWNSEND

The announcement that Mr. John Wilson Townsend, the brilliant young historical writer, will be associated with Mrs. Morton in the conduct of the Historical Register at Frankfort, will be gratifying to every citizen of Kentucky, the State which gave birth to both of these distinguished writers, and, as everybody knows, has been splendidly illustrated by the genius of both. Mr. Townsend has recently published at The Kentucky Journal office his admirable work on "Kentucky, the Home of Governors," a book which has proved to be a revelation to all who have read it. It is almost incredible that Kentucky should have furnished so many capable leaders for the States of the West, and equally incredible that each of these axotic leaders should have commanded, by his own unaided exertions, the respect and confidence of the turbulent population, who, before all things, demanded capable leadership in the men who were pushing to the front.

IN HALL OF FAME

Goes Portrait of Maysville Woman, Mrs. Judith L. Marshall, Now of Louisville

Henry County Local, New Castle, Ky.

If ever you go to Frankfort, pause and look upon a picture there. It is of a woman—a woman once a resident of "Old Henry," and still much loved by the people of the county. The picture hangs in Kentucky's "Hall of Fame." The place assigned to it is just below that of General Robert E. Lee. Though widely known for intelligence and lovely character, this good woman's chief distinction is due to the fact that she is the only person of her sex, in the United States, after whom any Masonic Lodge was ever named. The Lodge bearing her name is none other than Marshall Lodge, No. 700, of Port Royal, Ky. It hardly need be stated, therefore, to our readers that the lady referred to is Mrs. Judith Langhorne Marshall, who once lived upon and still owns a plantation which occupies practically all of Marshall's Bottom in this county. Her home is now at 430 West St. Catherine street, Louisville.

Mrs. Marshall was born near Washington, this county, and is an aunt of Rev. Maurice Waller of this city, and she has scores of other relatives in Mason county.

HAPPY RESULTS

Have Made Many Maysville Residents Enthusiastic

No wonder scores of Maysville citizens grow enthusiastic. It is enough to make anyone happy to find relief after years of suffering. Public statements like the following are but truthful representations of the daily work done in Maysville by Doan's Kidney Pills.

Mrs. Della Means, 328 East Front street, Maysville, Ky., says:

"About seven years ago kidney trouble made its appearance in my case, the first symptom being sharp pains through my kidneys, accompanied by a bearing-down feeling across my hips and loins. Daily, miserable headaches were also common and I often became so dizzy that if I did not catch hold of something I would fall. I continued to grow worse, and I was often confined to my bed for a week at a time. No remedy I tried helped me, and I began to have symptoms of dropsy. There was an almost complete retention of the kidney secretions and my body became bloated. I had about despaired of ever being cured, when I read of a person who had been rid of a similar trouble by Doan's Kidney Pills. Deciding to try them, I procured a supply at J. J. Wood & Son's Drugstore, and obtained so much relief from the use of the first box that I continued taking this remedy until I was entirely cured. I have no hesitation in saying that Doan's Kidney Pills saved my life."

The Rooster Crows!

"Chantecler" is the name of a play which is attracting a great deal of attention at present, in this country and in Europe.

The author is a gentleman named Rostand—Edmond Rostand. He is a Frenchman, and, altogether, a very brilliant man.

"Chantecler," being translated into plain, every-day United States, means rooster.

The moral of the play, as far as anybody has been able to figure it out, is that those who imagine the rising of the sun and the going down of the same depend entirely upon their own actions, are apt to be a trifle mistaken.

You see, "Chantecler" of the play, woke up and crowed every morning as the sun was rising—just like his American cousin.

From the fact that the sun rose as he crowed, he conceived the idea that the sun could not rise unless he assisted in the operation with his daylight anthem.

It was a fair supposition, because he didn't know any better.

But the other barnyard inhabitants—in the play, of course—were rather annoyed at "Chantecler's" attitude. For one thing, he was too conceited about it.

So, one morning, they fooled him: They kept him so busy that he forgot to crow—

But the sun rose, just the same.

We go into all this detail simply to say that certain members of the city administration remind us very much of "Chantecler."

They have stated that the bond-issue ordinance, of recent memory, forced us to bring in natural gas and to lower the electric rates.

There is this difference between them and "Chantecler," however; they knew better without being "shown."

Early in the Spring, many people knew that we would be in a position to reduce the electric rates this Fall, because we told them so.

Also, it was known that we were going to bring in natural gas, because we were on record to that effect.

Also, it was pretty generally known that we would be able this Fall to announce just when we would be able to bring in natural gas.

Do you see the point?

About SPICES!

When a druggist buys spices he has a chance to exercise his judgment and conscience. Spices are commonly inferior and there are often four or five grades. They are among the little things a druggist handles, but this is a store that looks after little things, and we allow no spices to come here that are not exactly what they should be. It will pay you to come here for them, for we guarantee the strength and reliability of those we sell.
